CDPH ZIKA VIRUS / HEPATITIS A VIRUS UPDATE

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Medical and Health Coordination Center (MHCC) continues to be activated in response to Zika virus disease. The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) and Emergency Medical Services Authority (EMSA) are currently the only Emergency Function 08 (EF 08) partners at the state level reporting on this activation.

The MHCC is coordinating with EF 08 partners, healthcare facilities and local health departments (LHDs) to ensure responses to inquiries are timely and accurate.

CDPH and EMSA Duty Officer Programs are monitoring Zika virus disease after hours and communicating with the Regional Disaster Medical and Health Coordination (RDMHC) and the Medical Health Operational Area Coordination (MHOAC) Programs throughout California.

As of Friday, 09/15/17, there have been 588 travel-associated Zika virus infections in California. No new cases have been reported since the last situation report dated 09/07/17. CDPH centers and programs continue to monitor Zika virus disease and provide information to the MHCC related to their specific activities on a weekly basis.

On 09/20/17, the MHCC was activated in response to a large hepatitis A outbreak in California. The outbreak is being spread person-to-person and through contact with an environmental contamination. The primary strategies for outbreak control are vaccination and improving access to sanitation. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) notes that person-to-person transmission through close contact is the primary way people get hepatitis A in the United States. San Diego, Santa Cruz, and Los Angeles Counties have declared local outbreak status. Outbreak associated cases have been confirmed in other California jurisdictions.

The EMS/Public Health DOC and HHSA DOC has been activated today September 18, 2017 at 11:30AM in support of the Hepatitis-A outbreak response. San Diego Medical Reserve Corp (MRC) was activated on September 13, 2017 for use in responding to Hep A activities. Some MRC member were used in Vaccine events on September 21, 2017.

The Hepatitis A outbreak situation continues. As of 09/22/2017, there have been 455 cases, 17 deaths and 311 hospitalizations.

Numerous County departments are working to monitor, investigate, coordinate, educate, outreach and respond to this situation. The County is working closely with external municipalities and service provider organizations. The County is coordinating closely with CDPH and CDC.

WEATHER OF CONCERN

Weather of Concern

- The National Weather Service has issued Fire Weather Watches across Northern California beginning 09/23/17 due to lowering humidity values and periods of gusty northeast winds.

Active Weather Warnings, Watches and Advisories by County:

- <https://alerts-v2.weather.gov/counties/CA>

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

The cold, moist low pressure trough that has been over Northern California has moved into the Great Basin. A few showers, including high elevation snow are likely to continue today in the eastern areas. Snow levels should be a little higher today at around 6500 ft. at the lowest. A high pressure ridge will be centered off the coast this weekend with gradually increasing pressure over the Pacific Northwest. This pattern will become a classic one that will generate light to moderately strong, gusty north to northeast winds with low daytime relative humidity (RH) and poor overnight recovery in the Sacramento Valley/Surrounding Foothills, and portions of the Bay Area and Mid Coast to Mendocino predictive service areas (PDAs) starting tonight and continuing into Tuesday. That wind/low RH combination is expected to bring "High Risk" for Significant Fire Potential to the Sacramento Valley and Surrounding Foothills early next week and increase Significant Fire Potential in the other PDAs mentioned. Peak wind gusts during this event will be 20-30 mph in and around the Sacramento Valley Sunday through Tuesday.

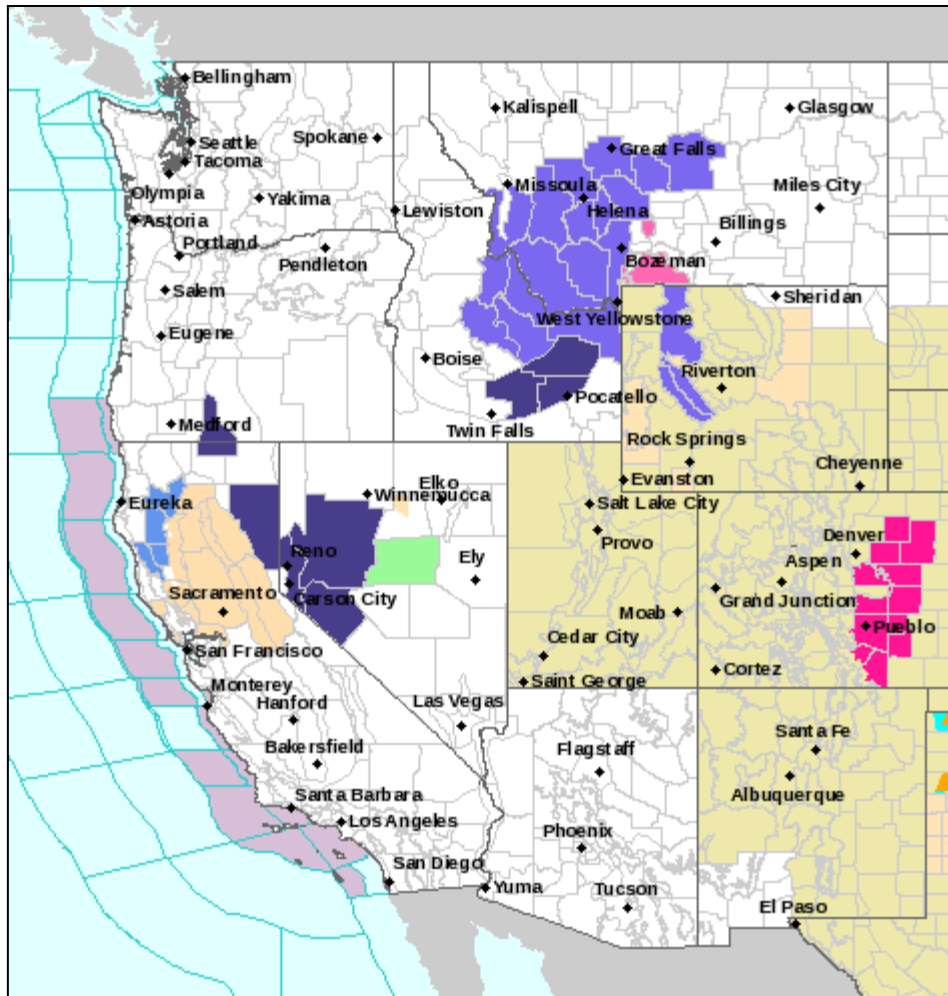

Temperatures will be warming, but still 10-15 degrees below normal today before warming to around normal values early next week (near 90 warmest inland valleys). Afternoon minimum RH will largely remain no lower than about 25% today before decreasing this weekend although the driest inland valley areas will probably see those values at around 15% today. For the lower western Cascade-Sierra slopes westward to the coast, minimum afternoon RH of 10-20% with poor overnight recovery is probable in areas favored by the north to northeast winds.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

An area of low pressure over the Great Basin will maintain well below normal temperatures and humid conditions across the region through Saturday. Maximum temperatures will be in the upper 40s and 50s across the mountains and mid 60s to mid 70s in the valleys today, with mid 50s to mid 60s across the mountains and upper 60s and 70s in the valleys Saturday. Minimum humidity will be above 20% through Saturday, except there will be some teens in the deserts. Scattered showers with light accumulations will occur over the Sierra through this evening. The snow level will be around 8,000 ft. A ridge of high pressure will build into the West Coast from the Pacific Ocean bringing significant warming and drying Sunday. Warmer valley locations across Southern California will approach 90 degrees and minimum humidity will drop into the teens across most of the region. Slow warming along with continued low humidity will occur Monday through the end of next week. Northeast to east winds of 15 to 25 mph with gusts to 40 mph will surface across the mountains and below the canyons and passes of Southern California Sunday morning through the end of next week.
